IT'S GONNA BE MAY

May was a month full of fun and connection here at NX Direct! Our team took full advantage of Atlanta's beautiful spring weather and vibrant energy with some unforgettable team nights. We kicked things off with a visit to Ponce City Roof, where we soaked in stunning skyline views, enjoyed games, and shared some well-earned laughs. We also spent a night out at Your 3rd Spot, a unique social experience that let us unwind, compete, and connect outside the office. And of course, we couldn't miss cheering on the home team at a Braves game, where the vibes were high and the team spirit even higher. These moments outside of work are more than just fun—they're part of what makes our culture strong, bringing us closer together and reminding us why we love doing what we do.
